THANKS

Of Nation Due to Wilson For Progressive Legislation Says Parker

COMDEMNS THE COLONEL

Delivers Address to Progressives In New York Saying Present Administration Has Brought Happiness and Prosperity to the Nation—Refused to Aid Roosevelt In Betrayal

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

New York, Oct. 14.—With a plea for the re-election of President Wilson, John M. Parker, Progressive candidate for vice president, delivered an address here today at a reception given him by members of the National Progressive party in which he dwelt somewhat at length on the part taken by Theodore Roosevelt and George W. Perkins, in the efforts to get the Progressive and Republican conventions in Chicago last June to unite on a presidential candidate.

Mr. Parker quoted Colonel Roosevelt as saying in 1913 that "I am for this cause to fight to the end . . . while life lasts," and that "I will never abandon the principles to which we Progressives have pledged ourselves and I never will abandon the men and women who drew around me to battle for these principles."

He also quoted George W. Perkins as stating he was opposed to returning the Republican party because it had been "more reactionary than ever." "The statement of our leader," Mr. Parker continued, "and the concurrence of the chairman of our executive committee were accepted at par by a trusting body of men and women who implicitly believed in our leaders. The tragedy of the great gathering at Chicago from June 7 to June 10 inclusive is a matter of history."

Mr. Parker said that he had information that every move in the Progressive convention had been approved by Colonel Roosevelt over the telephone. As a member of the committee on conference, he said, when a request was presented by Mr. Perkins from Colonel Roosevelt that the name of Henry Cabot Lodge be suggested for president I declined to be a messenger or to carry any suggestions to the Republican committee, as I recognized the right of no man to turn us over body and soul to those same Republican wolves against whom lifelong Republicans had revolted in 1912."

The pledged word of honor of the leaders," he said, "were mere scraps of paper and practically show that political honor is as little regarded as the peace treaty of nations."

He accepted the nomination, Mr. Parker said, with the certainty that it amounted to nothing politically except a "large volume of both ridicule and vituperation." He realized, he said, that if he declined the nomination it would be thought he was a "party to the betrayal of the principles" that brought the Progressive convention together.

"I am not a Democrat," Mr. Parker said, "but believe the thanks of this nation are due to Woodrow Wilson for what he has accomplished in the shape of progressive legislation that has brought untold millions happiness and prosperity to our people."

BAN JOHNSON PROMISES LOWER PRICES NEXT TIME

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

New York, Oct. 14.—Exorbitant prices for admission to future world series baseball games will not be tolerated, declared President B. B. Johnson, of the American league. "The world series as conducted at present," said Mr. Johnson, before leaving for Chicago, "threatenes to jeopardize the fair name of the game in public opinion.

"I think I can safely promise fandom on behalf of the American league that a scale of prices more just to the purse of the great general public which supports the game will prevail in the future."

EPISCOPAL RULES FOR MARRIAGE TO REMAIN THE SAME

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

St. Louis, Oct. 14.—The proposed change in the canons of the Protestant Episcopal church forbidding the remarriage of persons divorced for cause arising after marriage regardless of the cause, was rejected by the house of deputies of the general convention today.

AMBASSADOR'S WIFE HAPPY TO BE BACK IN NATIVE AMERICA

Mrs. Gerard smiling her way down gangplank of Frederick VIII.

Mrs. James W. Gerard, wife of the American ambassador to Berlin, expressed great happiness at being able to set foot on her native soil again when she arrived in New York with her husband on the steamer Frederick VIII Tuesday. At all times during the unsettled periods in Berlin Mrs. Gerard steadfastly remained by the side of her husband, refusing to leave him to take a vacation in the United States

HARVEY GARBER ISSUES ANOTHER BOOK AGAINST COX

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Columbus, Oct. 14.—Harvey C. Garber, former Democratic national and state committeeman who broke with the Democratic state organization and Governor Cox two years ago announced today he was ready to distribute 300,000 copies of "The Ohio Book of Facts" or "Little Red Book Number Two," among the Democrats of Ohio next week

A similar pamphlet was issued by Garber two years ago in which pictures of Columbus office buildings, rented by the state, were reproduced and the administration for Former Governor Cox attacked.

In the second issue of the "Red Book" letters written and statements made by John J. Whitacre, of Canton and A. P. Sandles of Ottawa attacking the Cox administration when they were candidates for the Democratic nomination for governor are reproduced in the book.

Among the things stated in Garber's "Red Book" is the last state campaign, was a charge that the Cox administration was extravagant in providing numerous offices outside the state house to provide quarters for state employes, and that there was a deficit in the state treasury.

As a matter of fact, the offices were necessary and there was no deficit. This was proved a few weeks ago when the Willis administration purchased an office building, using money which represented the interest on the surplus left by Governor Cox's administration.

AMMONIA PIPE BURSTS; LIVES ARE THREATENED

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Toledo, Oct. 14.—Twenty-two men narrowly escaped suffocation at the Folger Refrigerating plant here early today when an ammonia pipe line burst. Second floor employes had to jump to an awning thence to the ground. Guests still asleep in the St. Clair hotel were driven out by the fumes and people on the street within a block of the plant were choked. Firemen with gas masks and electric fans repaired the broken pipes.

TWENTY LICENSES ARE HELD UP BY CLEVELAND BOARD

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Cleveland, Oct. 14.—County Liquor Commissioners Horn and Krause today announced the names of 1380 successful applicants for liquor licenses for 1917. The licenses of 20 saloonkeepers, renewal of which was asked, were held up. There were 567 applications for the 34 new licenses granted in Cleveland and 23 applications for the six new licenses granted in the county outside the city.

STRUGGLE

In Northern France Renewed With Violence By the Allies

BERLIN DENIES SUCCESS

British Cease Preparations Along Struma River In Macedonia and That Sector is Quiet—Bulgarians Mass In Strong Force After Falling Back to Sere-Hissar Railroad

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

London, Oct. 14.—The struggle in the Somme region of Northern France, renewed violently with the heavy Anglo-French attack which Berlin declares achieved virtually no success, has been kept up by the Germans themselves. Last night they counter attacked strongly the French line south of the Somme, reoccupying part of Albaincourt and neighboring trenches.

Paris asserts however, that a French attack which immediately followed resulted in the capture of all the Germans.

"There also has been further fighting north of the Somme where the French claim an advance on Malassise ridge, along the road from Bouchavesnes to Moislains.

A cessation of important preparations along the British front east of the Struma river in Macedonia is indicated by today's official statement from London which announces that nothing has occurred worth reporting. The Bulgarians who have fallen back to the Seres-Demir-Hissar railroad are said to be massed in strong force along the line.

YANKEE HERO IS WOUNDED IN AERO SERVICE

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Paris, Oct. 13.—Norman Prince, of Boston, Mass., sergeant major in the Franco-American aviation corps, who was decorated for distinguished service last week, has been wounded. Both his legs are broken but his condition is reported favorable.

Prince is a Harvard graduate who gave up a law practice in Chicago to volunteer for service with the allies. He was decorated in October in 1915, for destroying a German war plane. His machine was shot down i nan aerial battle over Verdun last June but he escaped without injury and was recently reported to have brought down two German aeroplanes in Alsace.

JAPAN PROTESTS AGAINST FAVORS TO AMERICANS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Peking, Oct. 14.—Japan and Russia entered protests today against concessions for railway construction in China which have been granted to Americans.

Russia alleges that the Chinese minister in Petrograd promised verbally 18 years ago that Russia should have the privilege of building railways in the vicinity of Mongalia.

The Japanese claim by reason of their conquest of the province of Shantung all the rights hereafter held by Germany in the development of that Chinese province The Chinese government contends that Germany must be defeated before such a claim will hold good.

GERMANS LOSE GROUND TAKEN FROM FRENCH

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Paris, Oct. 14.—The Germans delivered a strong attack last night on Ablaincourt south of the River Somme and re-occupied part of the village as well as trenches northeast of it, it was officially announced here today. The French immediately launched a counter attack.

By this move they re-captured all the ground which had been won by the Germans.

North of the Somme the French made progress on Malassise ridge north of Bouchavesne

LICENSES REFUSED

NINETY

Divisions of the French and British Along Somme, Annihilated

ALLIES' GAINS ARE COSTLY

War Critic Furnishes Figures From Swiss Sources Telling of Fate of Troops Who Hammered Three Months Against German Line In France—Losses More Than Million

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Berlin, Oct. 14.—(Wireless to Sayville)—British and French divisions with a total of more than one million men have been virtually annihilated in the Somme battle, says the military critic of the Overseas News Agency.

According to figures from Swiss sources, as given by the News Agency the Russian losses from June 1 to Oct. 2 were about one million men.

The News Agencie's military critics writes:

"The heavy sacrifices made by the British and French for the recapture of a square yard on the Somme is proved by the fact that in three and one-half months about ninety fresh divisions were virtually annihilated, so that it was necessary to withdraw them. (Ninety divisions represents a total of considerably more than 1,000,000 men. There were about 12,000 men in a French division and 19,000 in a British division).

These divisions disappeared completely from battle Fifty-five divisions in consequence of their great losses, were able to engage in combat only twice, 15 divisions three times and only one was able to engage in combat four times. Four divisions had suffered so severely after their second engagement that it was necessary to send them to quiet sectors, but on critical days they were again thrown in."

DANGER

Of Raids From Mexico Still Exists, Says Letter to Gov. Whitman

CAN'T WITHDROW MILITIA

President Explains Why It is Not Deemed Wise to Recall National Guard Troops—Fresh Aggressions Against Life and Property On Border Probably Would Follow

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Long Branch, N. J., Oct. 14.—President Wilson in a letter to Governor Whitman of New York sent October 9 made public here today, declared that the emergency which caused the sending of the militia to the Mexican border "unhappily still exists." He added however, that he believed conditions in Northern Mexico was improving and that "in the near future "it probably will be possible to do more than has been done to relieve the embarrassments under which organized military regiments have necessarily suffered."

President Wilson wrote to Governor Whitman in answer to a letter from the New York executive regarding the New York militia organizations on the border. The President told Mr. Whitman that it was impossible to set a date on which the remaining New York regiments there could be released.

The President in his letter declared he had been advised by the War Department that a withdrawal of the militia at any time since they were sent to the border "would in all human likelihood have been followed by fresh aggressions from Mexico upon the lives and property of the people of the United States."

In his letter the President paid a high tribute to the character of the militiamen on the border and denied that any organizations were being kept there to perfect their military training.

GERMAN VOTE A CATSPAW FOR G. O. P. LEADERS

SENSATION IS CREATED IN IOWA BY INTERVIEW OF REV. W. HEINEKE.

Prominent German American Favors Re-election of Wilson and He Gives His Reasons Here.

Dubuque, Iowa, Oct. 14.—A profound sensation has been created here, the home of a large German-American population, by the publication of a statement by a prominent citizen of German birth in which he points out with great clearness and force how the Republican party, in its attempt to defeat the re-election of President Wilson is using the German-Americans as a catspaw.

The author of this statement is the Rev. W. Heineke, who for years was pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church in this city and who now is in business in New York City. The Rev. Mr. Heineke while a resident of Dubuque, was chairman of the German Press Committee of the German Embaro Conference, as well as of the German Red Cross of Dubuque. He was recognized here as a leader of German thought and for a long time was severely critical of President Wilson. "Now," he says. "I for one am not ashamed to confess that I have misjudged the President."

"We misjudged President Wilson's position in this world conflict," says M. Heineke in beginning his statement, "assuming it to be pro-English and un-American. Naturally we identified his actions with those of the pro-British press, every utterance of which appeared to the German-American element to reflect the mind of our government.

"Republican party interests have not been slow to make capital out of this state of affairs and to work the German-American vote for all it is worth, assisted by the German language press. In the heat of the controversy we overlooked entirely that the Republican party, if it had been in power, and containing the most pronounced anti-German element of America, of the type of Cabot Lodge, Elihu Root and Robert Bacon, probably already would have our country driven into an alliance with England and into war with Germany. What a howl that staunch supporter of Republican Candidate Hughes, Mr. Roosevelt, set up against President Wilson for his failure to take action against Germany on account of the 'invasion' of Belgium and, especially, for not promptly declaring war after the Lusitania disaster.

"If ever anyone made it a point to show his contempt for German-Americans and to wilfully misinterpret their stand for impartial neutrality, it certainly was Theodore Roosevelt. And he takes the stump for Mr. Hughes, and, after he has made that wild Maine speech denouncing everything German in Rooseveltian fashion, he is made the recipient of a congratulatory message from the Republican candidate.

"If after these disclosures of the real sentiment in the Republican ranks toward the German-Americans they still cannot see where to get off, they never will. In the hands of these men, the United States today would not be peacefully pursuing her undisturbed course, but would be engulfed in the vortex that has swallowed almost all of the world powers. With these men in the government of the United States the hard-pressed German nation could not have arrived at a peaceful solution of the difficulties arising between Germany and the United States out of English aggression.

"I harbor no resentment against the president now. I feel that for many things said and written against him the German-American citizens owe him an apology. Our criticism of his actions and motives has at times passed all bounds of discretion. No allowances were made for the difficulty of the international problems he had to wrestle with, no attempt was made to understand his motives. He was set down as a man whose sympathies were all British, not American.

"Now, in the light of more recent developments, in view of Republican activities and official utterances, I ask myself, who is American first and last,—Wilson who has steered the ship of state through unparalleled dangers and kept us out of war, or these men, who are the leaders of the Republican party, and who have brought all the immense pressure of big capital and inflamed public opinion to bear upon that lone man at the head of the nation, counseling war in sympathy with England and, while abusing the German-Americans in terms Wilson never used, playing out the German vote against the man who has stood like a rock in the way of all exploiters of truly American interests?

"I, for one, am not ashamed to confess that I have misjudged the president and I see clearly that he felt that he had to speak out as he did to awaken the country and by putting upon congress the pressure he could bring to bear, force it to yield agreement to his way of handling the submarine issue, which we all now must grant was the right way.

"None of the pro-ally Republican press doubts for a moment that Hughes is just as pro-ally as his spokesman, Roosevelt. I wonder that the German language press fails to take notice of these facts which tell all German-Americans in plain language, as plain as can be, that the Republican party intends to use the German vote merely as a catspaw in this campaign. The blind 'anything to beat Wilson' sentminet of theirs is a valuable ally in the fight of the enemies of peace against Wilson, and the Republican campaign leaders play a very clever game in playing the German vote out against the president. If we fail to see that now, we shall have to see our previous mistake after the election, when the mask will fall off the faces of false friends if, unfortunately, the president should be beaten.

"I fear when the game is up, German voters will regret to see that they have been 'sold.' In the hands of Hughes and the Republican party the issues the German-American stood for will be handled in rough-rider fashion, and, what is more, America's hitherto wise and peaceful course will be put in the gravest danger."

NEW YORK SUN'S HUMORIST WINS THIS WEEK'S PRIZE

The Advocate Melting Pot Limerick prize this week is awarded to Don Marquis, the celebrated humorist of the New York Evening Sun. The Sun, Luke McLuke of the Cincinnati Enquirer, George Bailey of the Houston, Texas, Post, Bob Ryder of the Ohio State Journal, the Memphis, Tenn., Commercial Appeal, Springfield, Mass., Union, and many other newspapers in the past few months have complimented The Advocate by printing with credit to this newspaper many of the jingles and paragraphs written for The Advocate's Melting Pot but this is the first time any of the celebrities conducting departments of humor have participated in one of The Advocate's weekly contests. An unusually large number of good limericks were submitted this week. A number of them appear on page 4 of this edition. The first line of the coming week's limerick reads: "A pretty girl's shoe came untied." The reader is invited to write the next four lines.

Woman Tells Why She Wants Wilson To Win Nov. 7th

New York, Oct. 14.—Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, who underwrote and undertook to raise the $500,000 campaign fund for use in the Woman's party campaign in behalf of Charles E. Hughes, has received the following letter from Mrs. Emma Haley Frazelle, a suffrage leader of Multnomah, Ore.:

"I was born a Republican, and the tariff question made me favor that party for years. Now that the tariff is to be handled by a commission, I must decide for the best man in the future.

"I can't trust the Hughes smile. I feel that his promise to the women is only a hollow promise, made with the knowledge that he would not have to sign a suffrage amendment until it had first passed the house and senate; a most unlikely occurrence were the Penroses and the Smoots once more in control.

"President Wilson has made us no answer which he cannot carry out. In other words, he has been perfectly honest with us. I, therefore, prefer to help the cause of one who holds out no false hopes.

"The suffrage amendment we desire to be drafted was in congress when Taft and Roosevelt were in power. They were Republicans and did nothing; and Hughes in his promise is only playing for the women's vote.

"I will do my campaign work for Wilson, the honest. In this State the majority of the women are standing for Wilson, and the suffrage cause has lost many of its best workers because of the foolishness of the Congressional union and the Woman's party in trying to throw the Oregon women's vote to Hughes.

"You are definitely injuring the cause of suffrage among Oregon women. We will never again work together as we did before this split, which you and your followers have forced upon us.

"You are causing the same split in other States, and, therefore, you have given suffrage the greatest setback that it could be given. It will take at least 10 years of hard work by the saner women to overcome the blow you have given suffrage in trying to force your candidate for President upon us by the expenditure of cash.

"Women, ideal women, want a man to be elected for some better reason than the mere expenditure of cash."

Common Pleas Notes

In common pleas court in the case of the State of Ohio vs. Barney Gilmore, indicted for petit larceny, the defendant entered a plea of not guilty.

The court heard the evidence in the case of Emery Cook vs. John Hillis and the case was submitted to the court. The suit is brought to enjoin the township trustees of Jersey township from furnishing certain drainage pipe for use in the drainage of a road which it is claimed is not a township road.

The court will begin the trial of jury cases on Monday morning next.

ICE AND MILK DISTRIBUTED BY SALVATION ARMY

For the quarter ending Sept. 24, the Salvation Army dispensed charity valued at $214.35 according to the quarterly report of Adjutant J. G. Watkins in charge of the local corps. The work of the organization was interfered with by the illness of the adjutant. According to the report street collections amounted to $40.15, donations and subscriptions reached $73.61. This, with the value of charity and relief work and the young people's work brought the total receipts to $328.35.

Rent of hall, heat, light, running expenses, etc., brought the expenditures to $328.35.

The Army distributed $101.40 worth of groceries, 290 quarts of milk, 5280 pounds of ice, three tons of coal, which with meals, lodging, transportations to the indigent and other forms of charity made up the total amount of relief work, $214.35.

During the quarter, 191 homes were visited, 30 open air meetings, 17 indoor meetings, and 17 young people's meetings were held. It is estimated that 12,000 people attended the open air meetings.

CRISIS FOR NATION'S TOILERS.

What the laborer didn't see under the Republican regime was that High Tariff does not regulate wages, but makes it possible for the manufacturer to so regulate prices that he can control labor. The farmer, with his characteristic self-reliance and naturally independent spirit, asked no favors. All he wanted was an equal chance with other business men. Wilson saw the farmers' interests in a big way.

The Rural Credits Act alone, of more than a dozen big things this Democratic Congress did for agriculture, gave greater direct benefits to the farmers than any legislation enacted since the creation of the Department of Agriculture a generation ago.

There came a time when the laborer saw that his labor was a commodity, a thing to be bought and sold, or restrained or enjoined by the unwarranted issuance of injunction writs in Federal courts; he saw that he did not have the right—guaranteed to him by our constitution—of voluntary association for his own protection and welfare; in short he saw that he was a wage-slave! He saw that he was up against Capital—organized and entrenched behind the Powerful Pull of the Political Bosses of the Republican High Finance

"WILSON MOVED CAPITAL BACK FROM WALL ST."

"Thank God He is a 100 Per Cent. Man," Declares Leader of Women's Movement.

In contrast to the Hughes junket of Wall Street's womenfolk, comes this indorsement of President Wilson by a woman who has achieved great things, and is a leader of the real femininist movement.

By Helen Ring Robinson,
State Senator of Colorado.

I am not with The Woman's Party. My opposition to its propaganda is based on the fact that I am working, twelve months in the year, to get the ballot for all American women. My experience of practical politics has taught me, among other things, that the Congressional Union is being used, at the present time, as a tool by the forces in this country which have fought, and will continue to fight, equal suffrage.

HELEN RING ROBINSON.

I am for Wilson because throughout his administration he has continuously made his appeal from the jingling of dollars to the rights of man.

I am for Wilson because he moved the Capitol of the country from Wall Street back to Washington, and because he has withstood the forces, now back of Hughes, who have sought to remove it to Berlin.

I am for Wilson because he has indeed shown himself "more interested in the fortune of oppressed men and pitiful women and children"—whether in Mexico or in America—than in his own personal fortune. Thank God he is not "a hundred per cent. candidate," but a hundred per cent MAN!

I am for Wilson because, whatever his fortune at the coming election, his achievements have given him a supreme place in the list of American presidents because his voice, during all those burdened years, has been the clear, old-time voice of America: the voice that to some of us had seemed muted and overborne by class hatreds and racial hatreds, and the snarling scramble for dividends.

However the coming election may turn, the pages of American history which President Wilson has written these past four years will be forever illumined with the white light of stars, and our children and grandchildren will indeed have cause to thank God for Woodrow Wilson.

Balky Machine.

"Do you want me to watch your automobile?" asked the boy.

"Yes," replied Mr. Chuggins. "And if it tries to start up and run away don't stop it. Holler for me, and I'll take a chance on overtaking it and getting the first ride I've had for three or four hours."—Washington Star.

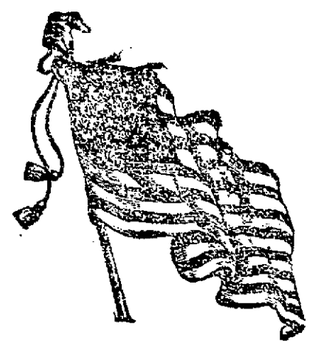
ESTABLISHED IN 1820

Entered as Second Class Matter March 10, 1882, at the postoffice at Newark, Ohio, under the Act of March 4, 1879.



It is never a good plan to swap horses while crossing a stream of water.—Abraham Lincoln.

What Was It?

A grimly ludicrous attempt has been made by the Chicago "Tribune" to deny that President Wilson has kept the country out of war, by listing 67 killed and 172 wounded in what it call President Wilson's "wars" in Mexico, Haiti and San Domingo, and impressively stating that the losses were greater than the American naval and marine losses in the Spanish-American war. Further, the "Tribune" declares that "even bloodier than Mr. Wilson's wars is Mr. Wilson's peace," citing the Lusitania and Mexican losses of civilians.

If it be the "Tribune's" purpose to argue Mr. Wilson into actually going into war, it can readily gain an idea of the REAL COST IN LIVES in modern war by noting in Canadian newspapers that the single operation of taking the village of Courcelette from the Germans in France cost the lives of 400 young men from the single city of Winnipeg, and then turn to a solid page of 1500 casualties in the Montreal "Daily Star" for June 26, 1916.

The headlines are eloquent of war's bloody grist:

"FIFTEEN HUNDRED CASUALTIES FROM OTTAWA

"Total for Month Has Now Reached Close on Eight Thousand"

That's for Canada alone, mind you, a country less than a twelfth of the size of our own in population, yet for only one month — EIGHT THOUSAND!

But huge as this number seems, it pales in comparison with the grand totals for the first ten months of the war compiled by the French Ministry of War as follows:

	Killed	Wounded
France	460,000	660,000
England	181,000	200,000
Belgium	49,000	49,000
Russia 1,250,000		1,680,000
Germany 1,630,000		1,880,000
Austria 1,610,000		1,865,000
Turkey 110,000		144,000
	5,290,000	6,478,000

"The losses of Serbia are not available, but as that country has suffered from plague in addition to war, they must be large * * * enough personas have been killed to populate a country like Sweden. In previous modern wars the number of wounded has been to the number of dead as four or five to one * * * many of the wounded have rejoined their regiments, but many are crippled for life. The sick who have been numerous in all the armies have not been listed here."

The foregoing is only for the first ten months of the war, and the war has now lasted 26 months or a period roughly two and a half times as long as the period covered by those stupendous figures which must since have been enormously multiplied. The German casualty lists to the end of June, 1916, as officially reported, total 3,112,637, without including the naval and colonial losses.

Yet in the face of millions upon millions of losses in killed and wounded in the European war, the "Tribune" would have its readers believe that President Wilson's peace has been "a peace even bloodier than his wars"—i. e., assuming for the accommodation of the "Tribune" that there have been any Wilson wars.

Take Your Choice.

Ida M. Tarbell, foremost woman writer on public affairs, made a ringing speech for President Wilson before business and professional women in New York Thursday night. Miss Tarbell said in part:

"Mr. Wilson's record of four years is so packed with achievement that it seems to have left his opponent high and dry. So far he has thought of nothing to promise to do. In this dilemma, he has confined himself to criticizing not Mr. Wilson's achievements — he could hardly do that since they are too obviously things that the country wants,—but, rather, the methods Mr. Wilson has followed in reaching his objects.

"I do not understand that Mr. Hughes objects to the country's being at peace, but rather to the means by which it has been kept at peace. I do not understand that Mr. Hughes objects to the Federal Reserve law, but rather to the fact the law was not left as Mr. Aldrich made it. I DO NOT UNDERSTAND THAT MR. HUGHES OBJECTS TO AN EIGHT-HOUR DAY, BUT RATHER TO CONDUCTING AN EXPERIMENT BY WHICH THE QUESTION COULD BE SETTLED FROM FACTS INSTEAD OF BY A STRIKE.

"Mr. Wilson believes in diplomacy, the use of brains, argument, self-control, in settling international disputes. Mr. Hughes seems to believe in settling them by force. Mr. Wilson believes that a measure like the federal reserve bill should be handled by the people. Mr. Hughes would leave it where Mr. Aldrich put it, in the hands of the few. Mr. Wilson prefers that a dispute like that between the railroad management and railroad labor should be worked out by experiment rather than by strike. Mr. Hughes would let them strike.

"It is a different way of looking at the world's problems. One is the way of the future, the other, that of the past. ONE IS THE WAY OF THE PEOPLE. THE OTHER, THE WAY OF THE FEW. ONE IS THE AMERICANISM OF LINCOLN.—THE OTHER THAT OF MARK HANNA. TAKE YOUR CHOICE."

The Republicans of Delaware have nominated to succeed himself Senator Henry A. Du Pont. The Senator is one of the family of immensely wealthy munitions manufacturers and a reactionary in his Republicanism. He is 78 years of age and during the past five years has answered to 405 roll calls out of 1199. He rarely attends Senate sessions but is always on hand when Big Business beckons. The people of Delaware have a great opportunity this year to relegate the venerable gentleman and put a live Democrat in his place.

PURE BLOOD MAKES HEALTHY PEOPLE

Hood's Sarsaparilla surely and effectively removes scrofula, boils and other blood diseases because it drives out of the blood all the humors that cause these diseases. They cannot besuccessfully treated in any other way. External applications for their removal have proven almost useless, because they cannot drive out the impurities that are in the blood.

Hood's Sarsaparilla makes pure rich blood, perfects the digestion, and builds up the whole system. The skin becomes smooth, clean and healthy. This great blood remedy has stood the test of forty years. Insist on having Hood's, for nothing else acts like it. There is no real substitute. Get it today. Sold by druggists.

Read the Want Column Tonight.

Farmers Take Notice.

You may have noted Hughes's vetoes while Governor of important agricultural appropriations. But, if so, ponder them again and contrast them with Woodrow Wilson's record of progressive achievement in the farmer's behalf. Some of the appropriations "killed" by Governor Hughes were these:

For Farmer's Institute work, $6,000.

For a specialist to fight insect pests, $2,500.

For dissemination of information concerning cheap farms to be had in New York State, $8,000.

For improving New York State College of Agriculture, $5,000.

For enlargement of State Veterinary College, $10,000.

For maintaining a department of veterinary science in the State University, $5,000.

For investigation and extermination of contagious diseases of plants, etc., $11,000.

What would the farmers of the United States say of and do to a President of the United States who struck such items — and there are many of them in each year's measure—from the agricultural appropriation bill passed annually by Congress? It is an interesting fact, too, that just one week after slaughtering these appropriations for the farmers, Governor Hughes signed appropriations increasing the salaries of a group of State officers, the least of whom was then drawing $5,000 a year.

A Page From History.

The greatest boom in American railway stocks in years has followed the passage of the Federal eight-hour law for railway trainmen. Thus American railway history repeats itself.

Railway organs, it will be remembered, made the same fight against safety couplers, electric headlights, and the prohibition of passes and rebates. They invoked heaven and earth and their political henchmen to fight all these wholesome and necessary changes. And increased prosperity followed every reform.

When Taft Was President.

(Springfield Republican.)

Senator Lodge had rich picking, of course in attacking Wilson's Mexican record. He is in a constant state of agonized solicitude for the Americans upon whom outrages have been committed in Mexico. Mr. Lodge never seems to be aware of the fact that nearly 100 Americans lost their lives in Mexico while Taft was president and that Taft did nothing tangible to protect them in their rights except to urge them to leave the country. One incident in particular it is impossible to make Mr. Lodge refer to in his speech on our "ghastly failure" in dealing with Mexico. That was the last Republican President's sublime performance in urging the citizens of the American town of Douglass, Ariz., to hide in their cellars or any old place in order to escape being hit by Mexican bullets. A statement like Mr. Lodge no doubt is proud of the Republican President's message to the Governor of Arizona.

"Cannot, therefore, order the troops at Douglass to cross border, but I must ask you and the local authorities, in case the same danger recurs, to direct the people of Douglass to place themselves where bullets cannot reach them and thus avoid casualty.

For stern instances on American rights there has been nothing surpassing that in our history, yet Mr. Lodge persists in ignoring so bright a spot, in a Republican administration.

A Frosty Romance.

(Philadelphia Record.)

According to Charles W. Fairbanks, the perennial vice presidential candidate of the Republican party, the end of the conflict in Europe will see 30,000,000 men, now engaged in martial slaughter, arrayed in a united war against the industries of America. "A protective tariff alone can save this country," says he. The frosty gentleman from Indiana has more imagination than he was given credit for. Indeed, his vision is a thrilling romantic one. Just think of Russians, Serbs and Austrians, of Germans, English and French—30,000,000 of them—all filed with one purpose! All intent upon the single object of newly setting up their wrecked industries upon the ruins of our own!

That the fact of the post-bellum situation will have to be reckoned with does not appear to trouble Frosty Fairbanks. He has plunged into romance, and a romancer has nothing to do with facts. In a work of fiction the industrial forces of Europe can be made to raise again, like Aladdin's palace, by rubbing an old copper lamp, American money or credit will not be needed to rehabilitate them. The army of 30,000,000 will be able to live without food and work without wages. It will be able to make bricks without straw, and other articles equally well without the usual raw material. It will call merchants novies, like spirits, from the very deep, to carry the products made by the hands of the unfed and unpaid workers; and finally, the goods will be dumped on our shores, if not as fre gifts, at prices approaching zero.

It is cruel to rouse from his dreams one who has visions as rarely as the vice presidential hope from Indiana. But Charles W. really ought to wake up. "The prosperity of this administration," he says, "is founded on blood-shed and disaster." Does he think the miracle will repeat itself and that, after making America rich, the bloodshed and disaster of Europe wil have such potency that it will also enable enfeebled Europe to lift itself up by its own bootstraps.

Governor Harmon's Views.

(Zanesville Signal.)

Former Governor Judson Harmon is actively urging the election of President Wilson. Governor Harmon is quoted as predicting that "the four months between President Wilson's defeat and the inauguration of his successor would be a period of chaos."

"The biggest question in this campaign," says Governor Harmon, "is whether an administration which, in the midst of a world war, with tremedous forces at work to drag us into the conflict, has kept us at peace and prosperous, is to be upheld or discredited."

He predicts many Cincinnati Germans will support President Wilson at the coming election, and says the more Cincinnati Germans hear of Hughes the better they like Wilson.

THE FUTILE KNOCKER

The harder he knocks the higher it goes.

The Advocate's Melting Pot

Virtue may be assailed but never hurt;
Surprised by unjust force, and not enthralled;
Yea, even that which mischief meant most harm,
Shall in the happy trial prove most glory:
But evil on itself shall back recoil.
—Milton.

Simp Spelling.

This here simp spelling makes us laff,
But if we rote this colum
The way we rite this paragraf,
Now wooden't it look solem?
—Luke McLuke.

Sum day we'll in a fit of peek
Eliminate these quizzers:
And gash orthography's fizeek
With smiter or sizzers.

Aunt Ca'line Says:

Ole Doc Carvem come a-driving by an' paused to talk to Wash Moore which he was a-settin' on his porch. Whilst they was a-talkin' the air was sort o' split in two by a kind o' moanin' shriek which was repeated some rapid several times. Ole Doc he says, "Land o' gosh, what's that?" Wash jest spit casual like at a knot hole in the porch floor an' says laconic like, "Yella (which is his wife's daughter) is a-takin' voice culture," says he. "Humph," says Doc, thoughtful like, "must be some painful," says he, "why don't your give her morfeen?" he says.

The Nomenclator has this week met Mrs. T. B. Ware and Miss Edith Neer, both of Urbana.

How About It?

Harvey Mullane came pretty near winning the prize for the oldest joke last week. In fact, we imagine he has won it, but we are giving others a chance to horn in. Here is Harvey's definition of the oldest joke:

"MARRIAGE."

—Luke McLuke.

That confiscated rib antedated marriage and it looks like that joke was on Adam.

Did You Know

That the tea plant is a shrub which grows in its native state, from twenty to thirty feet in height? Under cultivation it is cut down so that it seldom exceeds six feet and is made to branch freely. The leaves are dark green and from three to five inches long. The flowers resemble a small rose. The crop is harvested three times a year, the second harvest yielding tea of the best quality. The leaves are picked by hand and are placed in baskets. They are spread in the sun and partially dried after which they are heated over a charcoal fire. They are then placed upon a table and rolled in the hands, during which they attain the form in which they are placed upon the market.

Limerick Contest.

The Limerick we brought the best,
when all was said and done.
Was sent in by Don Marquis of the
New York Evening Sun.
With the dollar that we're sending, to
Marie's he can go,
Where he can lunch Fitalienne for 40c
or so;
And without extra charge he may, if minded that way, drink
A beverage that looks and tastes like very good red ink;
He'll have enough left for a ride to
Grant's Tomb, on the bus;
This temerarious revelry we hope he'll have on us:—

The Winning Limerick.

A man who loved sauerkraut and wurst
Said, "I'd pamper my vice if I durst;
But if I were more so
I fear that my torso
Would swell like a bubble and burst."
—Don Marquis of the New York Evening Sun

A man who loved sauerkraut and wurst
With a queer fad of drinking was cursed:
For he couldn't keep placid
Unless he swigged acid—
Carbolic appealed to his thirst.
—D. M.

Of all the list below we'd like especially to talk
Of A. J. M., Mt. Vernon and of Ethel Foster Valk,
And of E. H., of Bladensburg and also G. L. C.
Of Glenford: these exhibit canny touches, as you see: —

A man who loved sauerkraut and wurst
Developed a terrible thirst,
He drank and he drank
'Till his pal said, "Oh, blank,
I fear you will swell up and burst."
—Edith Smith.

A man who loved sauerkraut and wurst
When his kraut wasn't cooked just right cursed:
His wife he did love
But he gave her a shove
For the way she cooked sauerkraut and wurst.
—Kenneth Wells.

A Dog Gone Shame.

A man who loved sauerkraut and wurst
Had no money to buy some,—he cursed!
So into the grinder
Poor "Nellie,"—you'll find her,
And "Hot dogs" he ate till he burst.
—Ethel Foster Valk.

A man who loved sauerkraut and wurst
The motto observed, "Safety First;"
This judicious old wight
Governed his appetite.
And ne'er by indigestion was cursed.
—S. J. M., Bellevue.

A man who loved sauerkraut and wurst
Ate all that he thought that he durst;
He then went to bed,
The kraut went to his head,
And he dreamed that he swelled up and burst.
—B. B. S.

A man who loved sauerkraut and wurst
Ate as much as ever he durst;
His stomach did bloat
Till he looked like a shoat.
Said he to his wife, "Will I burst?"
—M. E. C., Glenford.

A man who loved sauerkraut and wurst
Ate so much that he very near burst;
Then he was not able
To get to the table
For two weeks,—and oh, how he cursed.
—E. H., Bladensburg.

A man who loved sauerkraut and wurst
Ate so much that they thought he would burst;
But he saw Aunt Ca'line
And now he feels fine,—
And recks not that his poor tummy hurts.
—W. A. S.

A man who loved sauerkraut and wurst
Ate so much that he thought he would burst:
He suffered such pain
That it drove him insane,
And he jumped in the cistern head first.
—G. L. C., Glenford

A man who loved sauerkraut and wurst
Ate more of them oft than he durst:
By his neighbors 'tis said
That this appetite led
To a sad fate,—he swelled up and burst.
—E. B. M.

A man who loved sauerkraut and wurst
Had a wife who all German things cursed:
When she learned of this taste
She declared, "I've ne'er faced
Such an eater." So she left him and nursed.
—E. B. M.

A man who loved sauerkraut and wurst
Fell ill and he had to be nursed:
So the stern nurse each day
Threw his wienies away,
And he said, "Now is worst come to wurst."
—C. S. T.

A man who loved sauerkraut and wurst
In dicteties was quite poorly versed;
But he said "Well, sure Mike,
Don't I know what I like?"
But such saltiness gave him a thirst.
—E. J. T.

A man who loved sauerkraut and wurst
Ate and ate till I thought he would burst;
But he answered, when I
Urged upon him some pie,
"I'll fill up on sauerkraut first."
—M. E. Mc.

A man who loved sauerkraut and wurst
Was consumed with a terrible thirst:
He ate and he drank,
Overloading his tank,
Till it swelled up so big that it burst.
—A. J. M., Mt. Vernon.

A man who loved sauerkraut and wurst
Helped his better half generously first;
Poverty won't be known
In their snug little home,
It's cheaper to appease hunger than thirst.
—S. A. Grandstaff, Sunbury.

A man who loved sauerkraut and wurst
Also drank Special Brew for his thirst
So he ate and he drank
Till he filled up his tank
Now says he, "I must stop or I'll burst."
—G. J. Friel

A man who loved sauerkraut and wurst
Ate so much that he swelled up and burst.
It is sad to relate,
But that was the fate,
Of a man we will call Billy Hurst.
—Gladys Irene Dunn.

A man who loved sauerkraut and wurst
Loved, too, a malt beverage for thirst;
So when put on a diet
He said, "Hanged if I try it,—
I'll climb up the golden stairs first."
—Clarence Winters.

A man who loved sauerkraut and wurst
Ate so much there was danger of "burst;"
But he growled, "I'm quite scandalized
Just three gallons vandalized!"
And his under-sized (?) stomach then cursed.
—Fannie B. Hollar, Vanatta.

A man who loved sauerkraut and wurst
Was a Prince under Frederick the First,
Said he, "In my realm
We need men at the helm
Who can eat kohl und fleisch till they burst!"
—Margaret Buell.

A man who loved sauerkraut and wurst
Ate so much, that they called in a nurse;
He suffered such pain,
She tho't him insane,
So immediately 'phoned Dr. Hirst.
—Marie E. Haines.

A man who loved sauerkraut and wurst
Ate so much that one evening he burst;
They stitched him together
But didn't know whether
He'd be just as good as at first.
Mrs. J. W. Thompson.

A man who loved sauerkraut and wurst
In a restaurant boisterously cursed;
He set up this holler
Because a dog collar,
He'd found in his helping of wurst.
—Aunt Ca'line.

Next Week's Contest.

She was pretty, she was stylish, but she knew not what to do
When she saw the laces loosened in her dainty little shoe;
For she wore a long, stiff corset and she really could not bend,—
Will you tell us in a Limerick how this tragedy did end?
By six o'clock on Friday all the verses must be in,
October 20th the date; dear poets, please begin.
For the best one we now promise you to pay a dollar bill
And we'll publish all the other ones that are composed with skill:—

A pretty girl's shoe came untied

JUDICIAL TICKET

	For Judge of the Supreme Court (Vote for two)
X	MAURICE H. DONAHUE
X	JAMES G. JOHNSON
	For Judge of the Court of Appeals (Vote for One)
X	R. S. SHIELDS
	For Judge of the Probate Court (Vote for One)
X	ROBBINS HUNTER

Two Judges of the Supreme Court, one Judge of the Court of Appeals and one Judge of the Probate Court are to be voted for in this county.

The above are the Democratic candidates only. The names of all candidates for judge will appear on a separate ballot, without party designation whatever. The names appear in different order on each ballot. It is necessary for each voter to fix the above names in his mind so that he can find them on the ballot, and place "X" in front of each name as above shown.

Do not fail to vote this judicial ticket. You have no duty more important, and these men all deserve election.

Take this clipping to the voting booth with you, and mark your Judicial ticket from it. It is proper and lawful to do so. Hunt out the above names and vote for them.

Society

A number of the friends of Miss Florence Wilkin assisted her to celebrate her birthday anniversary on Friday evening at her home near Wilkins Corner. The party was taken to the home on a hay wagon, and the evening was delightfully spent. Robert Wilkin, a brother of the honor guest, in a clever presentation talk gave his sister a wrist watch. A delicious luncheon was served the following guests:

Misses May Donahue, Margaret Mullenix, Letitia Long, Anna Barbee, Jessie Simpson, Gladys Beal, Izorah Scott, Edith Green, Lorraine, Chenoweth, Phyllis Gerlach and Florence Wilkin.

Messrs. Blair Markel, Edgar Rice, Harry Long, Irwin Porter, Carl Jackson, Theodore Bodle, Rudolph Schenk, James Markel, Joseph Markel, Edgar Francis Albright, Paul Wilkin and Robert Wilkin.

The party was chaperoned by Mrs. James Bernard.

A number of the friends of Mrs. Robert Cartnall were entertained at her home near Hanover on Friday evening. The hours were informally spent, with games and dancing and supper was served. Those in the party were, Mr. and Mrs. John Ebbert, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ebbert of Newark, Misses May, Eva and Bernadette Winters, Miss Lucille Conlon, Mary Grady, Mrs. W. H. Weisgarber and son Edward, Mary Mikesell, Mabel Hughes, Messrs. William Grady, Tom Grady, Jeff Cartnal of Bellaire, and Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Cartnal.

Thank offering.
Closing, John 3 :16.

Mrs. Norris with her assistant hostesses served refreshments to 64 members and guests.

Emblem---Alger.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Beatrice Alger and John W. Emblem at Deer Trail, Colo. The members of the Emblem family formerly resided in Newark before going to Deer Trail, which is 56 miles from Colorado Springs. John W. Emblem has purchased a large tract of land, while Edward Emblem is employed by the Rex Iron Works of Denver as a machinist.

The following account of the wedding is taken from the Deer Trail paper of October 4:

The wedding of Miss Beatrice Alger and John W. Emblem took place Wednesday at 2 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Alger, three and a half miles north of Deer Trail. As the clock chimed 2 o'clock, the briday party entered. Rev. C. L. Nellis performed the ceremony, using the ring service. Edw. Emblem, brother of the groom, acted as best man and Miss Josie Deter as bride's maid, with little Clara Deter as ring bearer.

After the ceremony and congratulations, delicious refreshments were served. The bride wore a dress of sheer white embroidered organdy and carried a shower bouquet of white roses, tied with chiffon ribbon. She is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Alger and all who know her speak of her in the highest terms. The groom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. John Emblem, of near Deer Trail, and like his fair and bonnie bride, is liked by all who know him.

The groom has a comfortable home near Deer Trail, where the happy couple will make their home. The young couple have been the recipients of many handsome and useful gifts.

The Coterie club members entertained their husbands and six guests with a delightful self-serve winter picnic Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Eagye, 94 Granville street. The evening was spent in games and with music.

The Country Cycle was delightfully entertained Friday evening by Miss. Elizabeth King at her home in Sharon Valley. The evening was spent in games after which a delicious lunch was served. Miss King's guests were, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Bazlar, Miss Vesta Heil, of Martins Ferry; Mr. John Richards and Mrs. Phillip Cary of Kansas City, Mo.

Mrs. P. W. Faust will be hostess to the members of the Harmonious Embroidery club on Tuesday afternoon, October 17, at her home in North Fourth street.

Mrs. G. E. Besanceney is entertaining with a children's party this afternoon, a Hallowe'en masquerade in honor of the birthday anniversary of her daughter Margaret Besanceney.

Mrs. Samuel Sachs and Mrs. John Sachs are issuing invitations for a series of parties to be given, October 19, October 20 and October 24 at the home of the former, 19 Wyoming street.

The members of the Krochea club were entertained on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. G. W. Matzenbach in Wallace street. The hours were devoted to crocheting and a contest was held, Mrs. J. E. Stewart and Mrs. J. D. Montgomery winning the souvenirs. It was decided to hold the annual winter picnic at the home of Mrs. William Weimer in West Main street. A dainty luncheon was served by the hostess and the next regular meeting will be at the home of Mrs. G. W. Shultz in North Pine street.

ASSEMBLY

OF OHIO BAPTISTS MAY BE SECURED FOR GRANVILLE NEXT YEAR

Greater Granville Club Takes Up Matter and Votes to Work For That End.

(Special to Advocate.)

Granville, O., Oct. 14.—There was a called meeting of the Greater Granville Club Friday evening, October 13, for the purpose of considering the report of the joint committee on entertainment and education. After a conference with W. A. Holmes, in which the matter of locating the Baptist Assembly at Granville was carefully considered from every angle the committee recommended the hearty co-operation of the organization in aiding Mr. Holmes to secure the Assembly for Granville. It also recommended in connection with the Assembly, the advantages of a Chautauqua course. After free discussion, the club voted to lend its influence toward securing both the Assembly and the chautauqua.

The Thalian Literary Society of Shepardson College gave an open meeting last evening which filled Recital Hall with a representative college audience. Each number of the brief program as well as the clever little play which followed, was warmly applauded, and Miss Helen Ray who sang "The Dawning" received a hearty recall—singing for encore "The Rosary." The preliminary program consisted of Chaplain's exercises, the president's welcome by Miss Katherine Wood; vocal solo, Miss Ray, a skit by the staff; and a reading from "Little Women" by Miss Louise Williams. Two scenes from "Little Women" were cleverly given by Freda Clause, Sarah B. Holmes, Ruth Eldridge, Margarethe Wellwood, Kathleen Wellwood, Doris Frederickson, Medeleine Edgerly, Margaret Heinwicks, with Genevieve Cathcart as stage manager.

In an interesting tabulation of Denison's registration for this year, which is proved to be larger than ever before, owing to various causes, chief among which is the loyalty of the alumni to the institution, the question is asked, where do all the new freshmen came from? There are many more from the Atlantic states than ever before; five from New England. As many more from New York and two from New Jersey. From Pennsylvania alone come seven freshmen, and five are from foreign lands. Indiana produces only one while Illinois sends seven Scattered over other states west of Ohio may be numbered two more. Of the 154 members of the class who registered from our own Buckeye state the new members representing various cities, are numbered as follows: Dayton 12, Newark 11, Toledo .. Zanesville 6, Bowling Green 6, Chicago 5, Cleveland 4, Cambridge 1.

What Ohio Club Women Are Doing

Mrs. Prentice E. Rood, Director of Press.

It will be a good investment for every federated club to send a delegate to the coming convention at Dayton, October 17 to 20, which promises to be the largest and best in the history of the organization.

Like individuals, clubs do not stand still. They go forward or deteriorate, and the inspiring ideas secured at a convention are of great value to a club.

Dayton is easily reached from all points in the state and has unusual facilities for entertaining a large gathering.

Council Meeting.

Article 3, section 4, of the constitution states that the Executive Board and President of Federated clubs shall constitute a council to consider and promote such measures as shall be for the interest of the Federation.

A council meeting will be held Tuesday, October 17, at 10 o'clock in Memorial Hall.

Club presidents are earnestly urged to arrive in Dayton for this meeting.

Loan Scholarship Fund.

Mrs. T. T. Rosendale, chairman of the loan scholarship fund, reports that only 295 clubs out of the 475 in the federation have contributed to this splendid activity. Come prepared to give your share of the needed $1,500.

Public Health Committee.

Doctor Josephine Peirce of Lima, chairman of the public health committee, is planning health conferences for those delegates who are interested in the department's activities.

Along this particular line the chief speaker at the convention will be Mrs. Etta Goodwin of the U. S. Children's Bureau. All clubwomen are familiar with Mrs. Goodwin, since her special duty is to co-operate with the women's organizations of the country.

Dr. A. L. Light, health commissioner of the public welfare department of Dayton, is arranging through his department for a health exhibit during the convention.

Convention Notes.

Through the courtesy of the Dayton Clubwomen, badges will be supplied by them to delegates, alternates and visiting club women.

The banquet at which will be seated 1,000 clubwomen is to be held in the new employes' dining room of the N. C. R., through the courtesy of John H. Patterson and Mr. and Mrs. Carnell, Mrs. William Harley Porter of Toledo, will preside as toast master.

Cleveland Women Busy.

If Cleveland does not retain its reputation as a beautiful city. It will not be the fault of the Cleveland Federation of Womn's Clubs. At a recent meeting the civic committee of that organization formulated plans which will keep them in touch with the enforcement of laws regarding the building code, clean sidewalks and garbage disposal. A "better film" movement also will be one of the activities of the federation.

What Cleveland women plan to do can be done in every city and town. What are you planning toward the betterment of your community? Write us about it, and help some other club with your ideas.

The Oakwood Efficiency League of Dayton had for their speaker, Miss Lutie Stearns of Milwaukee. Her topic was the various club houses conducted by women in the United States. The meeting preceded a campaign for a woman's club house which the Dayton women are to have in the near future.

Dayton Business Women Organize.

The Galion Federation of Women's Clubs did some effective work last year under four heads: Educational, including Parents', Teachers' clubs, civic, social welfare, and public health and sanitation. Even greater achievement is expected of them this year.

A new club has been welcomed recently into the state federation, that of the Business Women's Club of Dayton. Though organized only a few months, their membership numbers 120. Educational classes have been formed exclusively for club members, and some time there will be more about them in this column. In the meantime go to the convention and learn all about it for yourselves.

Call for Resolutions.

Have you any resolutions to present at the convention?

Send them at once to the chairman, Mrs. Walter E. Schutt, 1825 East 81st street, Cleveland, O.

Have you paid your endowment pledge? If not, will you not do so at once?

Please remember that this column belongs to you clubwomen. What you are doing along civic, educational or philanthropic lines is of vital interest to other clubwomen, and may serve as an inspiration for some achievement.

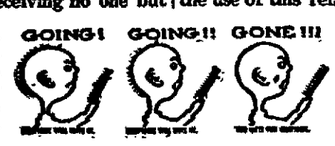
Use Newbro's Herpicide

IN TIME AND YOU WILL NEVER NEED FALSE HAIR

Wearing false hair is a harmless deceit of which many ladies are guilty. These women are all objects for sympathy rather than criticism.

Early neglect in the care of the scalp has caused the loss of so much hair that their personal appearance is sadly marred. To correct this defect they resort to artificial hair hoping by so doing to hide the results of their earlier inattention to the details of their toilet. These unfortunates are deceiving no one but themselves as no artificial hair no matter how costly, ever has the snap and luster nor can it be made to look as pretty and attractive as natural hair.



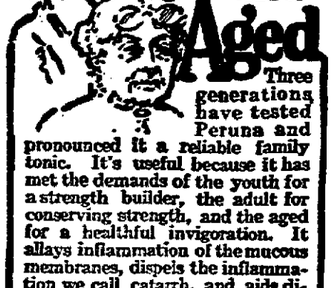
Most ladies would resent any imputation of personal carelessness and neglect. And yet very many permit their natural hair to become so dull, brittle and lusterless that it looks no better than that bought at the store.

All this is as unfortunate as it is unnecessary. Hair that is unsightly or thin may usually be attributed to the destroying effects of Dandruff. This destructive formation shortly robs the hair of life, with the result that it finally loosens and drops out.

There is a preparation, sold and guaranteed by all dealers, the intelligent use of which will kill the dandruff germ. It cleanses the scalp of all accumulations and makes the hair shine with the luster of life and beauty. That remedy is Newbro's Herpicide, the Original Germ-Remedy for Dandruff. In no way can you add more to your personal charm and attractiveness than by the use of this remarkable and well known scalp prophylactic.

On account of its astonishing merit and its delightful and exquisite odor, Herpicide finds users everywhere among all classes. It may be purchased in 50 cent and $1.00 sizes at all drug stores and toilet goods counters. Applications may be obtained at the better barber shops and hair dressing parlors.

Upon receipt of 10 cents in postage or silver to cover cost of packing and mailing, The Herpicide Co., Dept. S, Detroit, Mich., will send to any address a nice sample bottle of Herpicide and an interesting booklet on the care of the hair.



Youth, Adult and Aged

Three generations have tested Peruna and pronounced it a reliable family tonic. It's useful because it has met the demands of the youth for a strength builder, the adult for conserving strength, and the aged for a healthful invigoration. It allays inflammation of the mucous membranes, dispels the inflammation we call catarrh, and aids digestion. It helps rid the system of colds and coughs, and builds up the strength to resist grip, as well as helping remarkably in convalescence.

Nearly Fifty Years

have passed since Peruna was introduced to the public. The original formula has been bettered somewhat as experience has shown the way, but it remains the same remedy that has accomplished so much for the health of the people.

It may be obtained in tablet form or in liquid—both made after the same formulary, the tablets omitting the solvent, and it is ready to do for you what it did for your father and his father.

WALL ST. WOMEN TOUR FOR HUGHES

"Silk Stocking, Poodle Dog Brigade" Off to Invade West.

MAKES SUFFRAGE PRETENSE.

Many Members of Party Traveling on Train de Luxe Repudiated by Leaders of Women's Movement—Paid Speakers to Do the Talking For Them.

Wall Street is too busy harvesting Democratic prosperity to go campaigning—but it is sending its womenfolk. The greatest aggregation of wealth and social distinction ever represented by fuss, feathers and femininity left New York Monday, Oct. 2, by special train de luxe, to tell their sisters of the West how they should vote. Many of these women, claiming to be equal suffrage workers, are repudiated by leaders of that movement.

Stopping at Albany, Utica and Syracuse on their first day, the itinerary takes the women's campaign train through the principal cities of the north route across the continent and brings them back through Colorado, Nebraska, Missouri and Kentucky, a tour lasting until Nov. 4. The expenses are paid by and the tour is conducted under the auspices of the Women's Committee of the National Hughes Alliance.

"Women's Hughes Alliance" sounds innocent and harmless enough until one examines the personnel of the organization and discovers that it represents the feminine side of the organized and Morganized wealth of Wall Street.

The treasurer of the Women's Committee is Mrs. Mary Harriman Rumsey, daughter of the late Edward H. Harriman, railroad magnate and "practical man" of the days when Theodore Roosevelt received campaign funds from the "crooked business" which political exigencies later led him to denounce.

These Provide the Funds.

With Mrs. Rumsey on the Finance Committee are Mrs. Robert Bacon, whose husband was translated from the "House of Morgan" to be Roosevelt's assistant Secretary of State, and later Ambassador to France; Mrs. Bernard H. Ridder, wife of one of the proprietors of the New York Staats Zeitung, leader of the German propaganda against President Wilson; Mrs. W. H. Crocker, widow of the California mining and railroad multi-millionaire.

On the Train Fund Committee are Mrs. Daniel Guggenheim, of the Smelter Trust; Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, representing inherited millions of railroad capital; Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, daughter of the late Cornelius Vanderbilt; Miss Maude Wetmore, of the wealthy Rhode Island family of that name; Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth, daughter of Theodore Roosevelt, whose husband is Nicholas Longworth, Representative in Congress from Ohio.

Many of the junketers who are going along to do the speaking are professional women who have won their own way in the world—women who could not afford the luxury of special trains nor the diversion of campaigning without pay. But back of them, with their money and the glamour that attaches to their gilded names, are the women standing as financial sponsors for this greatest society show that was ever put on wheels. Some of these wives and daughters of the super-rich will go along on this mission, and with their presence, if not with their oratory, will warn the women of the West—who are already voters—that their country cannot be "saved" unless the women cast their vote for the candidate of plutocracy.

The letterhead from Republican campaign headquarters gives only the names of the Train Fund Committee as above, but besides them there is an additional committee in charge of this feature of the Hughes campaign.

Others In on the Junket.

On this committee appear, in addition to the foregoing members, the following:

Mrs. E. T. Stotesbury, whose husband is a Philadelphia partner of J. P. Morgan & Co.; Mrs. H. O. Havemeyer, wife of the Sugar Trust and Standard Oil magnate: Mrs. Phoebe Hearst, mother of William Randolph Hearst, owner of millions in American mines and Mexican plantations; Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, who has undertaken to raise half a million dollars to defeat President Wilson; Mrs. John Hays Hammond, wife of the multi-millionaire mining man; Mrs. Mary Dreier, New York society leader, of a wealthy German family with strong antipathy to President Wilson.

A leading attorney of Pocatello, Ida., writing to the Democratic National Committee, says:

"I read with deep interest of the preparations of the Silk Stocking, Poodle Dog Feminine Brigade that is soon to start on its million dollar special across the continent, to awaken the enthusiasm of the mothers and women who carry the burden of our national greatness on their shoulders, to vote for their idol, Hughes.

"It will not be difficult for the rank and file of the common people to see the hypocrisy of this movement, fostered by an element whose sacrilegious fingers are dripping with the fat and sweat that has been wrung from the lives of thousands of toilers during the half-century of Republican control of this government."

A proposal to repeal New York's full crew law has failed.

"VOTE AS AMERICANS"—FOR WILSON, SAYS EDISON.

No Time Now to Try an Inexperienced Man, Declares Inventor, Lauding President.

By GEORGE CREEL.

"Times are too serious to talk in terms of Republicanism or Democracy. Parties are all right—reckon we've got to have them with our system of government. But when it's America that's at stake men have got to vote as Americans, and not as Democrats or Republicans."

This is the message to the American people that Thomas A. Edison gave to me in a recent interview.

"This man Wilson has had a mighty hard time of it," he continued. "I don't believe there was ever a president who had as many big questions to decide. They have come in bunches. He hasn't always pleased me, just as I suppose he hasn't always pleased other people, but when you look the record over it's so good that criticism comes close to being nothing more than cheap fault finding.

"A fool or a coward would have had the United States in all sorts of trouble. As it is, we are at peace, the country was never more prosperous, and we have the strength that comes with honor and integrity of purpose.

"Wilson has won victories by diplomacy that are far more important to mankind than any victories that we could have won by war.

"Had we recognized Huerta it would have served notice upon the world that the United States, while believing in democracy for home use, was willing to stand for despotism where other peoples were concerned. President Wilson's Mexican policy has been wise and just and courageous.

"Belgium? Hindsight! In the light of two years it's easy to say what should have been done. But at the time not a single paper or a public man even thought of anything but keeping the United States out of the European horror.

"Tariff? There's another proof of Wilson's openness of mind. No matter what he thought about the Underwood law, he had the courage to admit that the European war had returned the tariff to the province of discussion. So he came to the front with his proposition for a tariff commission. That's sense. The tariff is a scientific affair, not political at all. A tariff commission will lift the whole business out of politics.

"As I said at the start, it has just been one big thing after another with Wilson.

"Look at the threatened general railroad strike. Why, if carried through, such a strike would have thrown the whole country into confusion.

"In my opinion, Mr. Hughes, if President, would have found it difficult to decide on the best course for the Government to take in such matters. His capacity for hindsight, as we learn from his speeches, is highly developed, but as to his foresight, we are not equally well informed.

"They say Wilson has blundered. Perhaps he has. But I notice that he usually blunders forward.

"Mr. Wilson now has had about four years of experience, and I think that he has earned faith and trust. I do not think it a sensible thing to change to an inexperienced and untried man. Therefore, I am for Woodrow Wilson."

Canada's 1915 crop yield is valued at $800,000,000, with wheat leading the list at more than $312,-000,000.

New York, Oct. 14.—Apart from the further strength of shipping issues, notably Atlantic, Gulf and West Indies and the underlying strength of prominent rails such as Union Pacific, New York Central and Norfolk and Western today's early dealings presented no features of special interest. Trading was again of a tentative or cautions character with the customary week end settlement of outstanding contracts. U. S. Steel was under moderate pressure with such industrials and equipments as Republic Steel, Airbrake and Colorado Fuel Coppers valuable. the same tendency being shown by motors and sugars. Columbia Gas and International Paper rose a point or more. Secondary prices were lower in the main.

Caution was the dominant note of today's short session, the market soon reacting from the firm tone of the opening. Leading stocks were under restraint, United States Steel and related issues reflecting constant pressures. Other industrials, equipments, munitions and a few unclassified specialties were lower by 1 to 3 points with 8 for Bethlheem Steel. Among the new neutralizing features were the shipping issues at gains of 1 to almost 3 points, International Paper, Butte and Superior, Continental Can and Studebaker. Rails barely held steady after their strong opening. The closing was irregular. Bonds were lower.

Chicago, Oct. 14.—Bullish crop reports from Argentina tended today to lift the wheat market here, but buyers were cautious as a result of the outlook for further havoc from submarines. Opening prices, which ranged from ½c decline to ¾c advance, with December at 1.57¾ to 1.58⅜ and May at 1.58 to 1.58¼, were followed by some downturns, but then a moderate general advance.

Corn hardened with wheat. The bears were handicapped by a decrease in stocks, as compared with a week ago. After opening unchanged to ⅛c lower the market sagged a trifle more, but then scored slight gains all around.

Oats were almost stationary. Country advices indicated a large accumulation of oats and scarcity of cars.

Lower quotations on hogs weakened provisions. Besides, shipments for the week were under the amount noted at the corresponding time last year.

Weekly Market Summary.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

New York, Oct. 14.The stock market was under constant restrain this week because of the apprehension created by the extension of Germany's naval operations to the New England seaboard. Prices recovered more or less irregularly from their precipitate decline of the early week, but were subjected to fresh depression yesterday on reports which suggested a renewal of last Sunday's submarine operations.

War issues naturally bore the brunt of the sellinf movement but the entire list was disposed to yield to moderate pressure. The ease with which prices receeded seemed to be due quite as much to an ovr-extension of the bull account as to any other cause.

There was nothing in basic conditions to warrant any diminution of public interest or confidence. Peace rumors were without effect upon foreign demand for our raw or manufactured products, national bank clearings as reported by the comptrollers of the currency are th elargest in the country's history, financial statements of railroads and industrial corporations show even greater prosperity and general business is far ahead of the same period for 1915.

IRON INCREASES.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Pittsburgh, Oct. 14.—Sharp advances in the pig iron market here are taken to indicate that when Lake Superior iron ore prices are announced for 1917, will show increases. These things, steel authorities decirae, presage still higher prices for finished steel products after the turn of the year. Sales of Bessmer pig were announced today at $24 a ton, Valley ore $1 over prices which prevailed earlier in the week. Four weeks ago Bessemer pig was selling at $21 a ton.

AMUSEMENTS

Sunday at The Grand.

"The Mystic Defender," third chapter of "The Shielding Shadow." The shadow appears to a music hall favorite and writes a message saying that if she will secure a confession from One Lamp Louie concerning his part in the forgery which sent Jerry Carson to prison, she will receive $1,000. She tries her best, but her success is prevented by a fire which starts a panic in the theatre, during which the mysterious stranger ravenger makes a heroic rescue of Leontine, who is deserted by her cowardly husband Sebastian.

"The Plot of a Demon," fourth episode of "The Yellow Menace." Hong Kong Harry a half-caste enlisted by Ali Singh, persecutes Najla by his drug-induced passion The girl contrives to telephone the police, who raid Ali Singh's headquarters, but are outwitted, while Bronson narrowly escapes death when his car falls from a broken trestle into a ravine. Manning and Kemp nearly capture Ali Singh, but are defeated by a beautiful odalisque, Katisha, a creature devoted heart and soul to the Higher One The action takes place on a house-boat on Long Island Sound.

"Busting a Beanery," a Pathe comedy, will also be shown. See it at the Grand on Sunday and hear the four piece orchestra.

LOIS BOLTON
In the great comedy "Twin Beds," at the Auditorium today.

Alhambra.

Simplicity and wholesome appeal are the main attributes of the first of the Mary Miles Minter American-Mutual Star Productions, "Youth's Endearing Charm," a six act romantic comedy drama, which will be seen for the first tie at Alhambra theatre Sunday. This feature presents, "Dainty Mary" in the first of a series of six big productions in which filmdom's most charming star will be seen. It was written by Maibelle Heikes Justice, a noted author and playwright and was produced under the direction of William C. Dowlan.

Miss Minter portrays an orphan girl, buffeted by fate during the early part of her life only to become the ward of a wealthy man, whose heart she wins by her beauty and unaffected charm, later marrying his son and actually becoming a member of the family. In the support of Miss Minter are found such noted screen players as Wallace MacDonald, Gertrude LeBrandt, Harry Von Meter, Alfred Ferguson, Bessie Banks, Harvey Clarke and Margaret Nichols.

Anita King, who will be seen at the Alhambra Monday and Tuesday as co-star with Theodore Roberts in the Jesse L. Lasky production of "Anton the Terrible," a thrilling drama of Russian political intrigue, has gone into trade, and soon a substantial corporation of which she is the head, will introduce itself into the busy marts of commerce.

When Miss King made her transcontinental automobile trip last summer, on which the production of "The Race" was founded, she was the object of a great deal of comment on account of the wonderful way in which she preserved her complexion. In spite of the wind and dust encountered, she arrived in New York with the same fair complexion with which she left Los Angeles. So many people have inquired for the ingredients of the preparation and she has prepared so much of it for her friends, that she has finally been induced to place it on the market. So shortly, "The Anita King Complexion Cream for Motorists" will blossom forth A competent physician will compound it for her, and it will be handled exclusively by correspondence.

At The Grand Sunday.

Auditorium.

The laughing festival at the Auditorium tonight is the world's greatest laugh producer, written by Salisbury Field and Margaret Mayo. A. S. Stern and company direct its fortunes.

In brief, the story has to do with certain dwellers in a big apartment house in New York, which is so compact that neighborliness is at once horrible to indulge in and impossible to avoid In one apartment live Harry Hawkins and his wife; he is a modest business man with a desire to soft-pedal on parties, and she a highly sociable little creature who cannot be prevented from smiling at strangers in the elevators In the apartment above them live Signor and Signora Monti; he a $2000 a night tenor at the Metropolitan opera house, she the Amazon who picked him out of a cabaret and set him up in the world In the apartment above live the Larkinses, wedded after the first act of the play. He, poor dear, is a slave to his work, innocent and faithful, she finds it hard to believe.

It does not require the soul of a prophet to see that once the tenor comes home too exhilarated to know one apartment from the other, and so got, by mistake, into the wrong one, the complications will fit to the playwright's hand. Not a chance for rapid fire situations was missed, not a piece of characterization omitted. Suffice it to say that "Twin Beds" is not only brightly written but much comic invention is displayed and taste shown, and the whole thing is said to be a merry, fresh, healthy and issesistible entertainment.

The seat sale is quite large.

Charley Ray is the star of "The Deserter." Triangle feature which will be seen at the Auditorium Sunday.

The story deals with stirring events at a frontier army post in 1868. Ray has the role of Lieutenant Parker, who has lost his heart to Barbara Taylor, daughter of the colonel in charge of the post. But Barbara's affections have been won by Captain Turner, and when the handsome young lieutenant asks her for her hand she has to say no.

Barbara does promise the disconsolate Parker that she will give him the first waltz at the approaching Halloween ball. But when the time comes, the first waltz finds her whirling about the floor with her intended. The young lieutenant has a nasty temper, and it becomes inflamed forthwith with anger and jealousy. He leaves the ball in a rage and goes to a dive on the outskirts of the post, where he tries to drown his sorrows in bad whiskey and worse company

This wonderful feature together with the last chapter of Gloria's Romance with Billie Burke, together with a two reel Triangle comedy, "Laundry Liz," will make up one of the best Sunday programs seen at this theater so far this year.

If running a beauty trust is against the law, then the managers of "The Follies of Pleasure" will probably come into conflict with the federal authorities as their famous musical organization which comes to the Auditorium theater Monday, matinee and evening, is said to include the largest number of really bewitching charmers ever seen in this city.

There is one best in everything and Rube Bernstein's "Follies of Pleasure" is said this season to set a pace that will be very difficult for theirs to follow. Not only in its magnificent scenic equipment but also in its wonderful aggregation of recognized talent, "The Follies of Pleasure" marks a distinct advance in the standard of modernized burlesque and one that will no doubt meet the hearty appreciation of the patrons of the Auditorium theater Monday.

Chief among the fun-makers is Clyde J Bates, that famous dispeller of the blues, also Tom McKenna, the dope comedian and the typical tad, and Fred Wright, the Beau Brummel of burlesque.

At enormous expense the management has also engaged the Boston Prima Donna, Dot Leighton, also Violet Hilson, a soubrette who possesses beauty and magnetic personality that invents things to win the hearts of the audience; not forgetting Mac Mills, who can "put over" a coon song second to none

A special bargain matinee for ladies will be given Monday. Seats are now selling.

Billie Burke in Gloria's Romance, the last chapter, will be seen at the Auditorium both Sunday and Wednesday of the coming week

This feature has run at this theater for 20 weeks and has attracted large crowds at nearly every showing of each chapter

To the Russian Sympathy Orchestra and its conductor, Modest Altschuler, a great share of the credit is due for the present wide-spread popularity of Russian music in America Those who heard the orchestral program which the organization gave at the Denison Festival at Granville, last spring, declare that never before have they heard music of such exquisite quality and such lovely melody as the modern Russian numbers which were played then Mr Altschuler has shown equal care in the program which he has selected for his initial visit to Newark, which will take place at the Auditorium on Tuesday, October 17.

In order to demonstrate his neutrality as a musician and avoid any accusation on the part of lovers of German and French music, he has included the "Ride of the Valkyries" by Wagner, the Largo from the "New World Symphony" of Dvorak and the Overture to the Ambroise Thomas opera "Mignon," as well as the Rondo Capriccioso of Saint-Saens, which will be played as a solo with orchestral accompaniment, by Michael Gusikoff, the concert meister However it will be in the Russian numbers the interest will chiefly center and among them will be the Italian Caprice and the Marche Miniature by Tschaikowsky, the Berceuse and "Dance of the Gnomes" from "Nur and Anitra" by Illyinski, the Scherzo from Scriabine's First Symphony and the Prelude in G minor by Rachmaninoff.

An added feature and one which will make the attraction unique above all others coming here this season, will be the first appearance of Lada, who despite her Russian name, is an American dancer.

VIOLET HILSON
With "Follies of Pleasure," at the Auditorium, Monday.

Beauty is only skin deep, so don't take a girl at her face value.

ZOE FULTON

Newark's noted contralto to sing aria with Russian Symphony Orchestra at Auditorium theater next Tuesday night Miss Fulton is singing tonight with the orchestra at Pittsburgh in Exposition hall.

A bill has been passed by the German Federal Council directing that after May 1, all clocks shall be advanced one hour This measure is intended to advance hygiene as well as to promote economy by lengthening the working time during daylight.

the financial editor of the Chicago Herald. The West Side Church of Christ some time ago took over the Methodist church property which was abandoned when the Neal Avenue church was built. It is in splendid condition and the membership is growing.

Y. M. C. A. Notes

The membership committee in charge of the campaign for new members decided to close the active campaign on last Monday evening. At that time 131 new members had been added to the membership. The records show that 49 members brought in new ones. The highest number brought in was 14 by K. I. Dickerson. George Wolfe of the Newark Trust Company brought in nine and H. D. Deane, Wilfred Rawlings and G. G. Barber brought in 5 each. A list of all those who brought in one or more new members is posted in the Association lobby. To date the number of new members added is 143 and the total number of members using the privileges is 515.

On Monday evening when the gym classes started for the season more than 100 young men used the privileges of the association. The opening gymnasium classes were the largest on record. All of the classes have now started and those members who have not attended should join the class at once in order to be in the make up of teams for special work.

The Salesmanship Course which began on Thursday night with President F. L. Beggs of the Chamber of Commerce as speaker, was not as well attended as it should have been. Those who were present received an exceptional treat in the address by Mr. Beggs. The next talk in the coursee will be on next Thursday night when Attorney E. S. Randolph will speak on the subject "Business Principals every Young Man and Woman Should Know." The meetings last from 7:30 until 8:30.

The Board of Directors held its regular monthl ymeeting on Thursday evening. They were much encouraged by the excellent reports made of the work being done. They were pleased to see the building so well filled with young men enjoying themselves in the different activities offered.

For three days of the past week the lobby and halls of the building were made lively by the delegates to the State Grocers and Meat Dealers convention. The Association made an admirable place for their meeting and they seemed to appreciate the privileges granted them.

A card from Forest Keckley, attending school at Hiram says he is enjoying the college atmosphere. Fred Jones came home from O. W. U. last Saturday and made the Association a call. He plays football on the Freshman team. Elmer Schimmell was elected president of the Senior Class at O. W. U. Merle Orr plays on the O. S. U. Freshman team.

Y. W. C. A. Notes

The annual Fall Rally was held Tuesday evening, October 10th and was a success. Over one hundred were present and showed their interest in the work of the Y. W. for this year. After the short program introducing the new secretaries, the gym class gave the Dutch dance, which was enjoyed by all. The Federation girls gave several of their songs and showed they were a good live bunch, all right. A general good time was enjoyed by all. Afterwards and punch and wafers were served.

Now since the Rally is over, the Association is ready for work and all classes open next week. First will come the classes on Monday night, which is "club night." Let every club member or prospective club member be present and join any two classes. There will be gymnasium, cooking, sewing, glee club, dramatics, china painting, etc. Tell the officer what you want and they will do all we can to help.

At last the time has come for "gym" to open. If you get five new girls to join gym class you can be a member free.

Here is the schedule for all gymnasium classes.

Monday, 7 to 9, Industrial classes.
Tuesday, 7 to 8, Beginners (all over 18).
Tuesday, 8 to 9, Advanced.
Thursday, 9:30 a. m Matrons.
Thursday, 4 to 5, Folk and Aesthetic dancing.
Thursday, 7 to 8, Beginners (over 18).
Thursday, 8 to 9, Advanced.
Friday, 3:30, High School Girls.
Friday, 7 t 8, Aesthetic dancing.
Saturday 9 to 10, Children under 10.
Saturday, 9 to 10, Children over 10.

Thursday evening, F. L. Beggs gave the first lecture on Salsemanship and Business Efficiency. The officers were sorry to see that more of the people of Newark did not take advantage of this opportunity. Mr. Beggs gave a fine address and all who were there received a great deal of good, and they join with the Y. M. and Y. W. in extending a hearty note of thanks to Mr. Beggs for the evening.

Next Thursday evening Attorney E. S. Randolph will speak on "Business Principles Every Young Man and Woman Should Know."

Monday evening, October 16th, the board of directors will meet in the Y. W. C. A. parlors. This is a very important meeting.

25 Years Ago

MERCHANTS HERE WARNED AGAINST CHECK WORKERS

In a letter to the local Chamber of Commerce, received this morning from the Wheeling W. Va., Chamber of Commerce, the local merchants and police authorities were notified to be on the alert for a man and woman, who have been active in defrauding merchants in several cities in West Virginia.

The couple operate under the names of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Stewart and in signing checks for purchases made in Wheeling used the name of James F. Gary, as reference. When the checks were presented at the banks they were returned, marked "no funds." The Wheeling organization asked that they be notified if the couple is apprehended in this city.

Chief of Police Sheridan was notified of the letter and has detailed a man to look after the case in Newark.

FOR COUNTY TREASURER
Second Term.

Vote For
WILL H. MILES

In November 1914 Will H. Miles was chosen by the voters of Licking county to be county treasurer for a term of two years and on the record he has made in those two years he now seeks re-election for a second term.

He was born and reared on a Licking county farm in Mary Ann township.

He was educated in the schools of the county being a graduate of the Hanover high school.

For a number of years he taught in the rural schools and later served as Superintendent of the St. Louisville schools. His experience as farmer, teacher, business man, combined with his knowledge of the office of county treasurer qualifies him for the duties of the office, beyond all competition.

If Will H. Miles is chosen by the vote of the county to be treasurer for a second term, the tax payers are assured of the same courteous treatment and high class service that has always distinguished this office.

By honest work and strict attention to duty Miles has placed himself in the position he now occupies.

He is no experiment. If efficiency is any consideration vote for Miles and make no mistake. 10-7 Sat. 5t

HOW'S THIS ONE FOR A YOUNGSTER?

A bright little Newark girl, nine years old, paid a visit to her grandmother's home the other day and while there heard politics discussed to some extent.

It should have been said at the beginning that the little girl, like her father, is a great admirer of President Wilson whereas her grandparents have long looked with favor on the G. O. P. Slipping up to her grandmother's side, the child inquired: "Grandma, if you could vote next month would you vote for Wilson or Hughes?" And when the answer was given the child asked the reason. "Oh, because I think we need a change," was the reply to her second question.

A little later grandmother was asked to express her choice between Willis and Cox and true to her old time conviction, she promptly declared for the reelection of the present governor.

Quick as a flash the child came back "and don't you think we need a change there too, grandmother?"

SUBMARINE IS BELIEVED TO BE HOMEWARD BOUND

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Washington, Oct. 14.—Government officials believe that the German submarine U-53 is now on her way back to Germany and that another is on the way to the American coast.

The nature and source of information upon which this belief is founded has not been disclosed.

Officials discredit reports of secret base on the American coast.

LEAGUE TO ENFORCE PEACE GIVEN CHARTER

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Trenton, N J., Oct. 14.—A New Jersey charter was issued today to the League to Enforce Peace which was organized in Independence hall, Philadelphia, in June, 1915, and of which Former President W. H. Taft is a trustee. John G Rier Hibben, president of Princeton university, and Harold J. Howland of Montclair, N. J, are the other trustees.

An alliance of nations to enforce the submission of international disputes to a world court for settlement and to avoid war are given as the objects of the league.

DISCUSSION ON MARRIAGE CONTINED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

St. Louis, October 14.—Discussion of the proposal to enact a church law forbidding a clergyman to perform a re-marriage ceremony regardless of the supposed "guilt" or "innocence" of a man or woman, divorced persons, was resumed at today's session of the house of deputies of the triennial convention of the Protestant Episcopal church.

Speakers arguing for the canons adoption, generally conceded that no legislation of the church can put an end to re-marriage but asserted that the proposed law would help the church to live up to its marriage service which binds a man and a woman until death do you part.

MICHIGAN MINERS STRIKE IS SETTLED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Saginaw, Mich... Oct.. 14.—The Michigan Coal Miners strike, which involved about 3,000 men, was settled today. The men will return to work Monday, it was announced. The miners struck more than a week ago after unsuccessfully attempting to have their pay based upon the gross weight of coal mined. They had been paid according to the net weight of coal after impurities had been removed.

It was announced today that the demands had been "adjusted."

UNITED STEEL CO. SOLD FOR $16,000,000.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Canton, O., Oct. 14.—The United Steel Company here was sold to Hornblower and Weeks, New York bankers, today for $16,000,000. The buyers will spend $4,000,000 on improvements. The change, which was approved at a stockholders meeting here today will take effect at once, but there will be no immediate change in management. It is the first instance of eastern interests buying into the steel industry in this section.

RETURN TO NORMAL CONDITIONS TODAY.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

New York, ct. 14.—A return to normal conditions in the city's transit strike situation was indicated today by the withdrawal from subway and elevated trains and stations of all the policemen who were detailed on this assignment at the time this week was attended by disorder. The police were withdrawn also from the surface cars during the day time but will ride on them at night.

Salt in the Spectrum.
The extreme delicacy of the spectrum test is illustrated by the fact stated by Lommel that the three-millionth part of a milligram of a salt of sodium, an imperceptible particle of dust to the naked eye, is yet capable of coloring the flame of a candle yellow and of giving the yellow lines of sodium in the spectroscope. Indeed, sodium in the form of a common salt (sodium chloride) is so universally present as an impalpable dust floating in the air that it is next to impossible to get a spectrum which does not show the sodium lines.

NO POISON FOUND IN STOMACHS OF LANCASTER WOMEN

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Lancaster, O., Oct. 14.—In the opinion of authorities here, gas fumes from a heater with improper combustion, caused the deaths of Agnes and Alice Smetters and Mary Stretton here, October 1. A chemist at Columbus reported yesterday that he had found no trace of poison in the stomachs of the women.

In view of this report it was considered improbeble today that the investigation into the death of the woman would be carried far.

CONDITIONS IMPROVING IN MEXICO

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Washington, Oct. 14.—Eliseo Arredondo, Mexican ambasador designate, told here today for the first time of his recent visit to Mexico City to confer with General Carranza. The ambassador is convinced that the exchanges of views which took place will contribute materially toward bringing about a better understanding between the two governments.

Conditions in Mexico show steady improvement, Mr. Arredondo said, despite the destructive effects of the revolution. He said that published reports of suffering among the natives because of hunger were greatly exaggerated.

"I found the Carranza government better consolidated and stronger in every way," the ambassador said, "than it has been at any time since it was established Normal agricultural pursuits are being taken up by the people and the corn crop this year exceeds any within 20 years."

The ambassador said there was no question but that a "legalist" movement had been started to overthrow his government

"In Mexico City, however," he said, "officials are not worried because of the legalist; they are wholly occupied with preparations for the presidential elections to be held in February."

The ambassador expressed his belief that the American-Mexican joint commission meeting at Atlantic City would find a solution for the difficulties between the two governments and said, General Carranza confidently expected it.

HUNDREDS OF MILLIONS NEEDED FOR RELIEF.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

New York, Oct. 14.—A fund of $130,000,000 will be necessary to put into effect the plans of the American society for the relief of French war orphans. This enterprise, incorporated yesterday, is described as the most gigantic philanthropy ever undertaken. It is proposed to raise this vast sum in the United States. Leaders in business and society are prompting the new movement.

The directors announced today that the attempt to care for the war orphans of France, already reported to number 200,000, is intended as an expression of America's gratitude to that country for her aid in the founding of this republic at the time of the American revolution and of this country's sympathy for the suffering the present war has brought upon France.

WHAT AVERTED STRIKE MEANS TO FARMERS

They More Than Any Others Owe Gratitude to President.

RUINOUS LOSS PREVENTED.

Cessation of Railroad Operation Would Have Wiped Out the $55,000,000 Peach Crop, Cut In Half the $200,000,000 Apple Crop, Taken $50,000,000 Off the Potato Crop, and Those Items Are Only a Drop In the Bucket.

By FRANK G. ODELL.
Editor Nebraska Farm Magazine.

The farmers of America recently faced a crisis, from which they were delivered by prompt action by the President of the United States—the threat of a nation-wide railway strike. The railway managers and the representatives of the 400,000 employed in train service were deadlocked over hours of labor and wage schedules. President Wilson volunteered to act as mediator, but had no power to force arbitration. An impasse was reached.

The Brotherhoods issued a strike order effective on Labor Day, Sept. 4. The railroad managements showed that they recognized the imminence of the strike. Embargo orders were issued on freight shipments. Supplies and strike breakers were mobilized. The country waited, breathless, for the storm to break. It was apparent that neither side was bluffing.

The President saw a national calamity impending. He called leaders of his party into conference with him, and with them wrote the bill presented to congress with the special message of the President next day. Neither the railroads nor the railway Brotherhoods were consulted. Neither side knew what the bill contained, neither made any demand or had the slightest influence in the framing of the bill.

That portion of the bill providing an eight-hour day for employees engaged in the op ration of trains became a law. It was accepted by the Brotherhoods, the strike order was cancelled and the calamity was averted.

No class stood to lose so much from the strike as the farmer. A single week of inactivity in freight and express service would have paralyzed his market for a month or more. Coming at the time of marketing of perishable products, his loss from this source alone would have run into millions.

Staggering Losses Averted.

It is estimated by the railroad management that the increase in wages because of the eight-hour day will amount to from $50,000,000 to $100,000,000 a year. Allowing their highest figure, $100,000,000, the farmers of the United States would have lost more than this in thirty days had there not been a man in the White House big enough to protect the interest of the whole people.

Five cents a bushel on wheat is easy picking for the pit gamblers when they can play the market at their own sweet will. It would have meant fifty million dollars' loss to the farmers on the billion bushel crop.

James K. Armsby, one of the largest shippers of fruit in California, a Republican, recently said that if the strike had taken place it would have bankrupted many of the fruit growers of that State. He said it would have caused a loss of not less than $20,000,000 to the fruit industry of California alone. This amount is probably much too low.

The peach crop now going to market, with a value of about $55,000,000, would have been practically a total loss. The $200,000,000 apple crop would have been shrunk by half in value. The potato crop, of a value of about $220,000,000, would have involved a further loss of at least $50,000,000. The cabbage farmer of Northern Ohio, the grower of tomatoes for the cannery and the celery grower of Michigan and Florida would have kept mournful company. Melons from Colorado, California, Arizona and Delaware, grapes from western New York and from Yakima and Wenatchee, prunes, pickles, poultry, butter and eggs should have gone down in the common cataclysm.

What would a strike have meant to the live stock market of the farmer? And what would it have meant to the consumer, with the cold storage facilities in control of the packers' combine?

Would Have Paralyzed Industry.

The direct and immediate loss which the farmer would have sustained in case of a strike is but one phase of the danger which threatened his interests. The depressing influence upon market prices, resulting from the inability of consumers to buy because of lack of employment, would have been felt in every item of this year's farm products. Take this single instance: This telegram, sent to President Wilson on September 2d by Henry Ford, the world's greatest automobile manufacturer:—

The President—The moment it is positivcly known that a strike will become effective on the railroads, the Ford Motor Company will of absolute necessity shut down its factory and all of its assembly plants throughout the country, and every man of its more than 40,000 workers will have to go off the pay roll.

I sincerely hope something can be done to avert the strike. Your efforts are appreciated and should be commended by every citizen in the country.

Strike while the iron is hot, but don't burn your fingers.

10 LICENSES ARE HELD UP BY CO. BOARD

CHARGES FILED AGAINST APPLICANTS FOR SALLON PERMITS CAUSE OF ACTION

Commissioners Decline to Issue Papers to Seiler Hotel and the "Log Cabin"

The Licking County Liquor License Board today granted 50 renewals for saloon licenses in Licking county, 47 in this city and three in Utica, O. The commissioners are O. C. Larason and Ray Martin.

Two applications were refused, that of E. W. Jones who conducts the "Log Cabin" and Albert H. Seiler of the Seiler hotel. Ten applications were held up by the board on account of charges which have been preferred against them. The applicants will have five days in which to refute the charges and if they can prove that they are without foundation licenses will be issued them. The two saloons which have been refused a license will have until the fourth Monday in November in which to close out their stock in trade.

In case the county board finds adversely against the 10 licenses which have been held up the dealers can have resort to an appeal to the state liquor licensing board at Columbus, whose decision will be final.

The charges against the 10 applicants on file in the office of the county board are, "Violating the city closing and other ordinances." "Selling to women in grill rooms," "Selling to minors," "Violating state Sunday law." "Selling to prostitutes in grill rooms," "Selling to drunks," "Shouting and singing, obscene songs in grill rooms," "Unsanitary conditions," "Harboring lewd women in grill rooms." "Young girls of 16 and 17 years in grill; and drunk and quarrelsome," "Ignoring instructions of licensing board," and "Violating city closing ordinance."

The successful applicants were: Daniel Altshool, George E. Bader, Jerry V. Baker, Bausch & Wildman, Bridgman & Green, John W. Brown, Samuel C. Burrell, William T. Carson, Daniel Coffman, Anna B. Curren, Charles F. Dean, Frank Delmonico, Richard Dold, Harry Embery, Alonzo C. Foster, Fitzsimmons & Siegwart, George H. Fromholtz, Fox Brothers, Dennis S. George, William F. Graef, Ulysses G. LECTURE COURSE FIRST NIGHT WAS VERY ENTERTAINING

The first number of the high school lecture course which has been conducted for several years from an educational standpoint by the school was the Oxford company. Consisting of music by four vocal artists and a pianist, the program proved unusually entertaining.

Prof. O. J. Barnes made several announcements concerning the course and introduced the company, who had appeared at the high school auditorium two years ago.

Mrs. Stella Ogden, soprano, Miss Verae Ross Coburn, contralto, Mr. Claude Hart Ogden, tenor, and Mr. Harry Allen Leiter, basso, made up a partet of great merit, and the first part of the program consisted of three quartet numbers, "Carmenia," "The Bubble," from Rudolph Friml's opera "High Jinks," and the "Miller's Wooing."

Harrison W. Burch, pianist with the company, was introduced and his number, the second Hungarian Rhapsody by Franz Lizt, was wonderfully interpreted with finished technique.

The second part of the program was the presentation in costume of the principal parts and song numbers in "The Chocolate Soldier," the opera bouffe based on "The Arms and the Man," by George Bernard Shaw. The music was written by Oscar Strauss. Mrs. Ogden sang the role of Nadina, while Miss Coburn played the part of the maid, Alexis, the hero, was given by Mr. Leiter, while Mr. Ogden played the role of the chocolate soldier.

Especially beautiful was the rich contralto voice of Miss Coubrn, who also proved herself an actress of ability.

The opera was well presented, the characters being well taken, and all the roles were sung well.

Invasions of Russia.

The first great invasion of Russia was that of the Huns, a race of fierce and warlike Asiatics, who swept over eastern Europe in the fourth century.

In the thirteenth century the golden horde of Tartars captured Russia, and from 1238 to 1462 the country was under the yoke of the Mongols. In 1395 Tamerlane invaded Russia, but retired. In 1462 the Slavs again gained the ascendency, and Ivan III. (the Great) founded the present monarchy and introduced firearms and cannon into Russia.

In 1479 there was another great invasion of Tartars, but they were driven out. In 1613 the present royal family, the Romanoffs, gained the throne. In 1700 the Swedes invaded Russia, but after several victories they were routed.

The last great invasion of Russia was that of Napoleon. His disastrous retreat from Russia, in which most of his army was destroyed, marked the beginning of the end of his power.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

GAS CONSUMERS URGED TO HOLD FAST TO FUND

Editor of The Advocate:

The Natural Gas and Fuel Company is again attempting to influence the city council and Gas consumers into a division of the $194,000.00 escrow fund, which is on deposit in the Newark Trust Co. As matters now stand to the credit of the gas consumers. This company is attempting to bate the consumers and city council into an approval of a division of the escrow fund on the propositions that they haven't facilities to furnish a sufficient supply of gas for Newark's needs, and that they need half of the escrow fund, $97,000.00, with which to construct a gas main from Newark to connect with their main in the vicinity of Granville. The inconsistency of the proposition is apparent because they have demonstrated that they have facilities to furnish the required supply when forced to do so. We very distinctly recall that after three of our citizens filed a complaint with the public utilities commission against them setting forth the facts that the company had repeatedly attempted to freeze and influence our citizens and city councils into a submission of their demands for rates and escrow fund. When they found that the city's attorneys were out generaling them in the hearing of the matter before the utilities commission and that a decision would probably be rendered against them, they quickly proposed that the hearing be postponed to ascertain whether an agreement with the city's attorneys could be entered into whereby the company would furnish the required supply until the case in court against them relating to the escrow fund was adjudicated. That proposition having been agreed to, the case before the commission was dropped. The repeated attempts of the company to freeze the consumers into an acceptance of their propositions is fresh in our memory. Fortunately our city councilmen and city solicitors as well as the consumers believed their demands were unreasonable and their statement untrue, as to the lack of facilities or that they needed one half of the escrow fund, the vast sum of $97,000.00 before they could contruct the proposed main. Their old alibi that they lacked facilities has been disproved and their testimony in court showing that they have grown from an original investment of $87,000.00 to a $5,000,000.00 corporation without having added to their original investment disproves their present contention of the need of the escrow fund for the purpose stated and further shows that they have secured more of the hard earned money of the consumers than they deserved. The common pleas and state supreme courts having decided against them and they believe that the United States supreme court will sustain the decisions that have been rendered has caused them to become desperate to secure a division of the escrow fund and are now attempting to have our city council pass their ordinance providing for a submission of a division of that fund to the consumers at a special election. They agreeing to pay all expenses of such an election demonstrates their anxiety to adjust the matter before the United States Supreme court renders its decision. Their hope for success in this last proposition is their belief that there are a number of consumers that need money at this season of the year and that there can be a sufficient number of our citizens induced to believe their statements that they will succeed on the proposition. Who does or can believe their statements? The inconsistency and unreliability of their statements are glaring because of the facts learned from our experiences in attempting to deal with them.

There certainly can't be many who will put any credence in their statements. We have been diligent in our efforts to assist in protecting the consumers' rights in the escrow funds and rate adjustments with the company. We solicit all consumers to hold fast to what they have and await the United States Supreme Court's decision.

SOMEBODY PAYS

Did it ever occur to you that it does not make any difference whether a man carries life insurance or not, the loss is paid for just the same?

Death means loss, and losses must be paid. It is an exact commercial and economic principle that a value always must replace a value or there is a loss.

Because it is only one case, the attention of the world is not called to it, but that one loss is paid just the same whether the man has life insurance or not.

In one case the insurance company pays, in the other his family pays by his children going without education, by their joining the great army of wage-earners; in some coin or other the loss of that activity is paid for.
